CANADA FAQ

1. Can I send a few students by themselves?

No, we only host closed groups of a min. 8 students per location.

2. Can my two kids stay with the same family?

Yes, you can request so in the booking for the homestay twin option

3. Does the group need to come with a chaperone?

No, not required but preferably yes. If the group travels/stays with a chaperone, there is no need to organize custodianship per student. If the group travels by itself, Kaplan will provide custodianship against an extra fee (not available for 12yr+ residence-based groups).

4. How far are the host families? What type of lunch is provided?

Families are within 60 minute commute time. They provide a bagged lunch (sandwich, fruit, drink) each day. On weekends, the student will join the family's regular lunch/meal routines.

5. How much spending money would my child need?

Approximately $100-$120 per week

CANADA FAQ

6. I only want a course booking for my group, no activities.

This is possible but it requires a chaperone.

7. Will the group be at the Kaplan school?

Homestay groups have classes at the school. For Toronto residence groups, classes may be offered at the residence.

8. Do you have designated Junior centres?

No, your group will take its classes at Kaplan Toronto and Vancouver schools.

9. What type of visa do Juniors require?

Depending on their nationality, your group may require an eTA or a tourist visa (TRV).

10. Will the students be in mixed classes?

No, they will be in a closed class, with their group members only. If the group size allows, this may be tailored.

Thermae Bath Spa!

One of Bath's main attractions is its famous hot spa water, fed by the area's hot springs. The springs are the only natural hot springs in the UK. Two thousand years ago, they fed into the Roman Baths complex, which made Bath famous both in the Roman period and in the 18th Century.

The old hot pools inside the Roman Baths Museum were closed to bathers in 1978. Over the next 28 years, ambitious plans were developed to build a modern, 'high-tech' spa complex nearby. This opened in 2006 as the Thermae Bath Spa, the only spa complex in the UK using naturally hot mineral water.

Kaplan's student guide to...

Prior Park!

Originally the site of a 12th-century deer park, Prior Park is best known for the house and magnificent landscaped garden bought by Bath entrepreneur Ralph Allen in the early 18th century. The park has been owned by the National Trust since 1993, and was opened to the public in 1996.

The gardens were designed by the English poet Alexander Pope from 1734, with later changes made by the famous English garden designer Lancelot 'Capability' Brown. The house was the home of Ralph Allen until his death in 1764, and was later converted into a school, Prior Park College.

Kaplan's student guide to...

Jane Austen Centre!

The Jane Austen Centre is a permanent exhibition which explores Jane's time in Bath (a city which is mentioned in all her novels) and the influence that the city had on her books, characters and personal life.

The Centre's exhibition has been created with the guidance of the Jane Austen Society, and is one of the best places to learn about English literature's best-loved novelist. The Centre is situated in an original Georgian building, and is staffed by knowledgeable guides wearing Regency costume. It is the perfect place to learn about Jane's experience in the city between 1801 and 1806, and the effect that living here had on her work.

Read about... ...English Heritage

English Heritage is a charity which was formed in 1983 to protect and manage more than 400 historic sites, monuments and buildings in England. They cover more than 5,000 years of history, from the prehistoric era to the present day, and include world famous places like Stonehenge, Tintagel Castle, Tilbury Fort, Fountain's Abbey, and parts of Hadrian's Wall.

ENGLISH
HERITAGE

As well as maintaining their properties, English Heritage also organises many special events throughout the year. These include battle re-enactments, family 'theme days', and guided tours. It also supports learning in many ways, especially through their website.

The following link, in particular, re-tells the story of England through an interactive tour of their properties:

<http://www.english-heritage.org.uk/learn/story-of-england/>

More than half of English Heritage's properties are free to explore. Others have an entry charge, but if you buy an annual membership gives you unlimited access to its properties and events for a full year.

Your turn...

- What are the most famous historical sites in your country?
- What legends do you know about places in your country?

Ask your hosts...

Have you been to Stonehenge? If so, what is it like?

What different explanations for Stonehenge do you know?

Which explanation do you believe?

Ask the guides...

Do you like Stonehenge? Why? / Why not?

Why do you think Stonehenge was built?

Now find out more...

Stonehenge is one of the most famous prehistoric monuments in the world. Situated 8 miles from the city of Salisbury, in Wiltshire, it was built between 3000 and 2000 BC, probably as a burial site.

The different functions of Stonehenge are surrounded by mystery. At different times it was probably a burial site, a place of religious worship, an astronomical observatory, and even a place of human sacrifice.

Now part of English Heritage, the Stonehenge site has been a UNESCO World Heritage Site for more than 30 years. It is one of the most well-known and most visited tourist destinations in the UK.

At-Bristol!

The At-Bristol Science Centre is a celebration of Bristol's important role in the history of science and engineering. Part of Bristol's Floating Harbour redevelopment project, the Centre has welcomed more than 4 million visitors since it was opened in 2000.

The building which houses At-Bristol is a recycled railway shed from the early-20th Century, but inside you will find state-of-the-art interactive exhibits which introduce visitors to the latest developments and discoveries in the world of science.

AirHop!

AirHop Bristol is the world's largest trampoline park, with over 135 interconnected trampolines covering the floor and walls of the site. It's not only fun, but it's also a great way to burn calories - up to 1,000 of them in one hour!

AirHop Bristol's facilities include a huge main court, 2 dodgeball courts, 5 slam dunk lanes, 5 foam pit lanes, battlebeams, and a wipeout zone. Plus a café and viewing platform in case you're feeling less energetic. There is literally something for everyone, from children and young families to professional gymnasts!

the Homestay experience!

Living as a member of a UK household during course is a great opportunity to be part of the culture of the English language. By staying with a British person or family in their home you are able to experience how people in the UK organise their domestic lives. This offers you a learning opportunity which you simply cannot have in your own country. For this reason the Homestay experience is one of the most important and valuable aspects of your course.

This leaflet will help you and your homestay family to make the most of all the opportunities for learning and communication skills development which your Homestay experience provides.

UK households: facts and figures

- there are more than 27 million UK households
- more than 80% of people in the UK live in a house, and less than 20% live in a flat
- the average UK household size is 2.4 people
- nearly 8 million people in the UK live alone
- 65% of UK households are owner-occupied
- 35% of UK households are rented, of which 17% rent from a private landlord and 18% live in social housing
- the average price of a house in the UK is £225,000, but in Bath the average price is £335,000
